Friends,

Every day, people just like you contact my office needing assistance. One challenge we commonly work through is ensuring federal agencies return taxpayer money to its rightful owner.

This week, I announced that my office returned more than $3.3 million owed by federal agencies to constituents across Nebraska's First Congressional District since 2022.

My team works as diligently as possible to make sure Nebraskans get what they are due, and I am very proud of what they have accomplished.

Over the last year and a half, people across the First District saw money returned from a variety of agencies including the Internal Revenue Service and Social Security Administration among others. The types of returned resources include retirement money, back pay, federal tax credits, tax returns, veterans' benefits, Social Security benefits, and other categories.

If you or someone you know in the First District needs assistance with a federal agency, please reach out to my office. Even if you are unsure if we can help, please call or set up an appointment. My team is ready to go the distance to make sure each First District constituent receives what they deserve.

My District Office can be reached at 402-438-1598. Location and contact information for all my offices can be found at <https://flood.house.gov/>.

I look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,
